

Please do not weaken Indiana's "Do Not Call" law by imposing the "established business relationship" rule allowing companies with our names on their list to call us. These calls are very troubling and irritate most everybody who receives them. I suspect that the existing list could be broadened by companies who would sell or rent their lists to others, thereby circumventing a law that was duly passed by the voters of Indiana.

Thank You.

Chris Berger